

Digital Droplet PCR: Next Generation KIT D816V Testing in Mastocytosis

The mutation KIT D816V is among the diagnostic criteria for systemic mastocytosis and is present in the majority of patients with this disease. The current project aims to identify the clinical relevance of the KIT D816V mutational burden for overall and progression-free survival in this disease.